Is this website a credible source?

What? Is this site directly related to my topic?

Yes

Who? Is the author listed on the site?

Yes

Who? Is the author/organization a credible authority in the field?

Yes

Why? Is the aim to persuade or give unbiased information?

Unbiased

When? Is the information up to date?

No

If you use this information, present all represented perspectives and highlight any biases in your discussion.

Use this information, but refer to other sources as well. Referring to multiple sources increases accuracy and strengthens your argument.

Find another source. Do not waste your time digging into websites that do not directly relate to your topic.

Find another source. Only use sources that cite an author or organization.

Find another source. Only use sources that cite an author or organization.

Check the publication, copyright, or last modified date on the website. If it is not current enough to be reliable, find another source.